On Fanon and Problems going on these days

By Shomit Sirohi

Introduction

I call this a style of essay writing demanded from this – one can be naïve and in fact study ecology again as I appreciate in Saroj Giri's phd thesis and that would then be about social metabolism, and natural metabolism, based on a rift from nature, which then mediates modern life which is alienated from nature and is called an ecologist's perspective on anything at all. Such an ecological masterpiece would help.

I. Conjunctures today

Black lives matter in America, Spanish Catalan protests, and intertanglement of Cuba, Algeria and China with Indian mass peasant and workers protest. This then is a mass line type protest in Communist countries with Europe having Communist parties protesting.

II. Actual Psychoanalytic Conditions of a Person, or Leading Principal Actor

In fact the leader is always a leading element and a forcing leader and can be trusted as Fidel used to argue – a leader is constant and leading the people.

III. What Affects the Leading Person

Therefore the concrete conditions affecting this ongoing leadership position is simply called a contradiction – lets detect in Poulantzas the reason – the social protest then has a spontaneity here in India, which then has trade union as well organized which then has in a small spontaneity of Jewish theology with in fact its material cause being in fact ecological distress which is then a material cause and effect because Poulantzas calls this the ecological movement in India which is forcing on the law – treat it as a conjuncture therefore – the best way to lead life I forecast is to follow it to clear skies and better ecology and so in Marx perfect health and psychological conditions.

Let us follow the correctness of Marx's poetry and mathematics – I argue the young fellows sped to recovery and was fine in a speeding Jewish health, which is now fine in fact but wonky because of ecological conditions coming in as accident – it means though one just dusts off the pollution and moves on – and this then is the problem of modern capitalism – what is so evident is now mystified.
